

'One Off' Cleans

Why the price?

It is over twice the price that most regular customers pay, but this is because:

* Customers love our one off cleaning service because we put so much effort into achieving the right result. Our highly trained consultants take down your order very carefully so that we understand your needs, allocate the best cleaner for the job, and brief the cleaner on what is required of them. The other such administration costs for just one clean are very high if it is to be done properly. With regular customers all these costs are spread out over their many cleans, whereas with one off cleans these are all in one clean.

* The one off cleaning service is the very highest possible standard and is used by some of England's most discerning households. The cleaners are very carefully vetted, selected, monitored and insured.
